How our lessons are taught

- Lessons are activity based and made interesting for students to enjoy the learning process.
- We profile and customise learning journals for individual students.
- We aim to let students “internalise” and discover concepts for themselves. Our teachers are trained to be coaches rather than just “dispensers” of knowledge.
- We mould and encourage students to develop as self-regulated and independent learners by applications of Buzan® Learning Techniques and Habits of Mind infused in our programmes.
- We put into practice the theory of multiple intelligences (Howard Gardner), the habits of mind (Arthur Costa), and of course all the ideas of Tony Buzan!
- We instill fun and excitement into learning, to cultivate life-long learners who love to learn and know how to learn effectively.
